
minimum-cost seam
straight cut at the midpoint
(a) the gap where the seam both avoids the most ink and bends furthest rows 1265–1314: the seam crosses 0 ink px, a straight cut crosses 44
columns 0–612
columns 612–1224
(b) the local cost in that gap, pale is cheap
$C(y,x) = 4\tilde{M} + 0.012\,((y - y_m)/h_g)^2$
page row
1275
1300
4
2
(c) the gap that departs furthest from a straight cut rows 194–235: the seam crosses 0 ink px, a straight cut crosses 29
columns 0–612
columns 612–1224
(d) the same cost field for the second gap
page row
200
225
0
200
400
600
800
1000
1200
column of the half-resolution working image